DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Embodiment 1, claims 1, 3, 7, 9, 13 and 15 is acknowledged. However, claim 15 is a method claim which has been withdrawn from previous election.

Claim Objection

2. Claims 1, 3, 7, 9, and 13 are objected to because of the following informalities: all the limitation which related to "third semiconductor chip" should be deleted from claim 1 because elected embodiment 1 (Fig.1(a) to Fig.2(b) does not include the third semiconductor chip. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 7, 9 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Symons (US 6,337,226).

Regarding claim 1, Symons discloses a semiconductor device comprising: a first semiconductor chip (31) and a second semiconductor chip (33), each of which has a circuit formation surface and a reverse surface with respect to the circuit formation surface, the first semiconductor chip mounted on a circuit substrate (30) in such a manner that the reverse surface of the first semiconductor chip faces the circuit substrate; the second semiconductor chip being mounted on the first semiconductor chip in such a manner that the reverse surface of the second semiconductor chip faces the circuit formation surface of the first semiconductor chip, and having protruded part (33A) formed by protruding at least one outer edge of the second semiconductor chip from an outer edge of the first semiconductor chip, the first semiconductor chip and the second semiconductor chip being wire-bonded with the circuit substrate; the semiconductor device comprising a mounting-use bonding layer (32) on the reverse surface of the second semiconductor chip, and the mounting-use bonding layer functioning as a semiconductor bonding agent for mounting the second chip on the first semiconductor chip, and filling a gap between the circuit substrate and the protruded part of second semiconductor chip. See Symons' Fig.3 and Fig.4.

Regarding claims 7 and 9, Symons teaches that the mounting-use bonding layer (32) is form of an epoxy resin (col.4 lines 15-20).

Regarding claim 13, it is known in the art that epoxy resin is a liquid resin.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claim 3 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Symons appears to be the closest prior art reference. However, this reference fails to teach that a surface of the mounting-use bonding layer has the same shape as the reverse surface of the second semiconductor chip. Prior art of record fails to teach or suggest to incorporate these limitations into Symons to arrive at the claimed device.
